Program of Wider Scope For Boy Week

Radnor Township and Wayne to Be Included in Celebration.

IS MAY THIRD TO NINTH

Boy Week will be celebrated along the Main Line May 3 to 9, inclusive, according to an announcement made at the meeting of the Main Line Boy Council, held at the Ardmore Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday night.

The program this year will be wider in scope than ever before. In years past only boys living in Lower Merion Township and the Borough of Narberth have been eligible to compete in the various events. This year, however, Wayne and Radnor Townships as a whole has been included in the plans.

The parade, which will be the opening event of the week, will take on a

Lower Merion Five Enters Semi-Finals of State Tourney by Outlasting Old Forge

L. M. Police Capture 13-Year-Old Robber

With the arrest and confession of a 13-year-old boy last Friday, Lower Merion police believe they have put a stop to dozens of petty burglaries in Bryn Mawr, Ardmore and elsewhere along the Main Line. The boy, who is a Bryn Mawr resident and the son of respected parents, was caught by Lieutenant "Patsy" Mullin in Bryn Mawr near the scene of some of the robberies, which have for some time alarmed housewives.

One Bryn Mawr woman suffered nervous prostration as a result of one of the burglaries; others in the township have for some time been afraid to leave their homes unguarded for fear of thieves breaking in.

Among homes which the boy admits having broken into are those of Helen Burns, Bryn Mawr; G. Gordon Cook, Ardmore; William Flynn, Ardmore, and G. S. Anders, Ardmore.

The total money recovered by police is estimated at not more than $15. The Bryn Mawr lad, who is a student in the Lower Merion Junior High School, was held under $500 bail by Magistrate Franklin P. Kromer for Juvenile Court at Norristown. In addition to the thefts to which he has confessed, police suspect him and other boys of having committed many other burglaries throughout the township.

To Hold Card Party

The Sub-Juniors of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth will hold a card party on Saturday afternoon at 1:30. There will be sandwiches and tea and prizes. Tickets may be purchased from the members or at the door. Everybody welcome.

EASTON, March 18.—Lower Merion's championship kings of the wooden way continued to sweep the opposition aside in their rush for State honors by outstaying the tall, aggressive Old Forge combination from upstate in a tough battle in the Lafayette College gymnasium tonight. The final tabulation was Lower Merion, 26; Old Forge, 23.

The boys from up Scranton way were certainly men of metal tonight, and proved beyond a doubt that they were forged from tempered steel. They fought like tigers during the last half of the ball game, and had the contest continued much longer would probably have pulled the game from the fire.

Coach Bill Anderson's boys showed the strain they have been under since the tournament started, and were badly off in their shooting. Many opportunities for baskets early in the game were passed up as the Maroon team failed to drop dead shots.

The boys were game, however, and managed to hold the lead they had maintained from the first few minutes of the battle. Bonniwell and Lockwood were banished from the game in the closing quarter because of personal fouls, and the coach sent in John Pennypacker and Henry Gane. The former dropped in a field goal which meant new life to the fagged-out five. Al Mandes' sterling defensive work kept the team in the running for the State championship.

Lower Merion's opponent in the semifinals will be John Harris High School, of Harrisburg.

Maroon in Semi-Final Monday at Palestra; Captain Mandes Ill

Monday night's semi-final game for the State interscholastic basketball title will be played at 8 o'clock, Monday night, at the Palestra, Philadelphia, between Lower Merion High's undefeated five and the John Harris High team, of Harrisburg.

Captain Alfred Mandes, who leads the Maroon invincibles in collaboration with Warren Lockwood, was ill in bed with tonsillitis as this paper went to press. Coach Anderson is hoping he will be able to play Monday night, but has excellent reserves to call on in case Al is too weak to enter the game.

Tickets may be obtained at the Senior High and at the following Ardmore stores: Slavin's, Abromson's, Harper's Drug Store. It is expected 7000 persons will see the game.

Coach Bill Anderson probably will take his squad to the shore over the week-end to fill their lungs with the sea breezes prior to what is hoped to be the next to the last step toward the Pennsylvania title.

'Biggest Thrill Was When I Got First Check,' Said Nancy Byrd Turner at Narberth Club Institute

Many presidents of neighboring clubs, officers of the Southeastern District and of the County Federation of Women's Clubs were in the enthusiastic audience at the opening of the Institute of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth on Tuesday morning. Mrs. W. Russell Green, president of the Narberth Club, delivered the address of welcome.

"Contribution" was the subject of the day. Parliamentary law's contribution towards doing things the right way was described by Mrs. E. C. Batchelor. Mrs. Harry Jacobs, county chairman of Juniors, reviewed the splendid contribution that club members, particularly juniors, have made in the work for the blind. The value of the club to its members was pointed out by Mrs. A. B. Ross, chairman of the County Federation of Woman's Clubs.

An amusing little skit, "Tragic realism or the editor's quest," was presented by Mrs. A. V. Tisdale, chairman of publicity of the Southeastern District, and Mrs. Arms, of Pottstown. It demonstrated the necessity for accurate, interesting publicity.

That a loyal club member should hold down a seat at every meeting if possible and remain until the end was

Local Bank Issues Envious Statement

A statement reflecting the firm financial condition of the Main Line was issued this week by the Merion Title and Trust Company, in answer to a call from the Secretary of Banking.

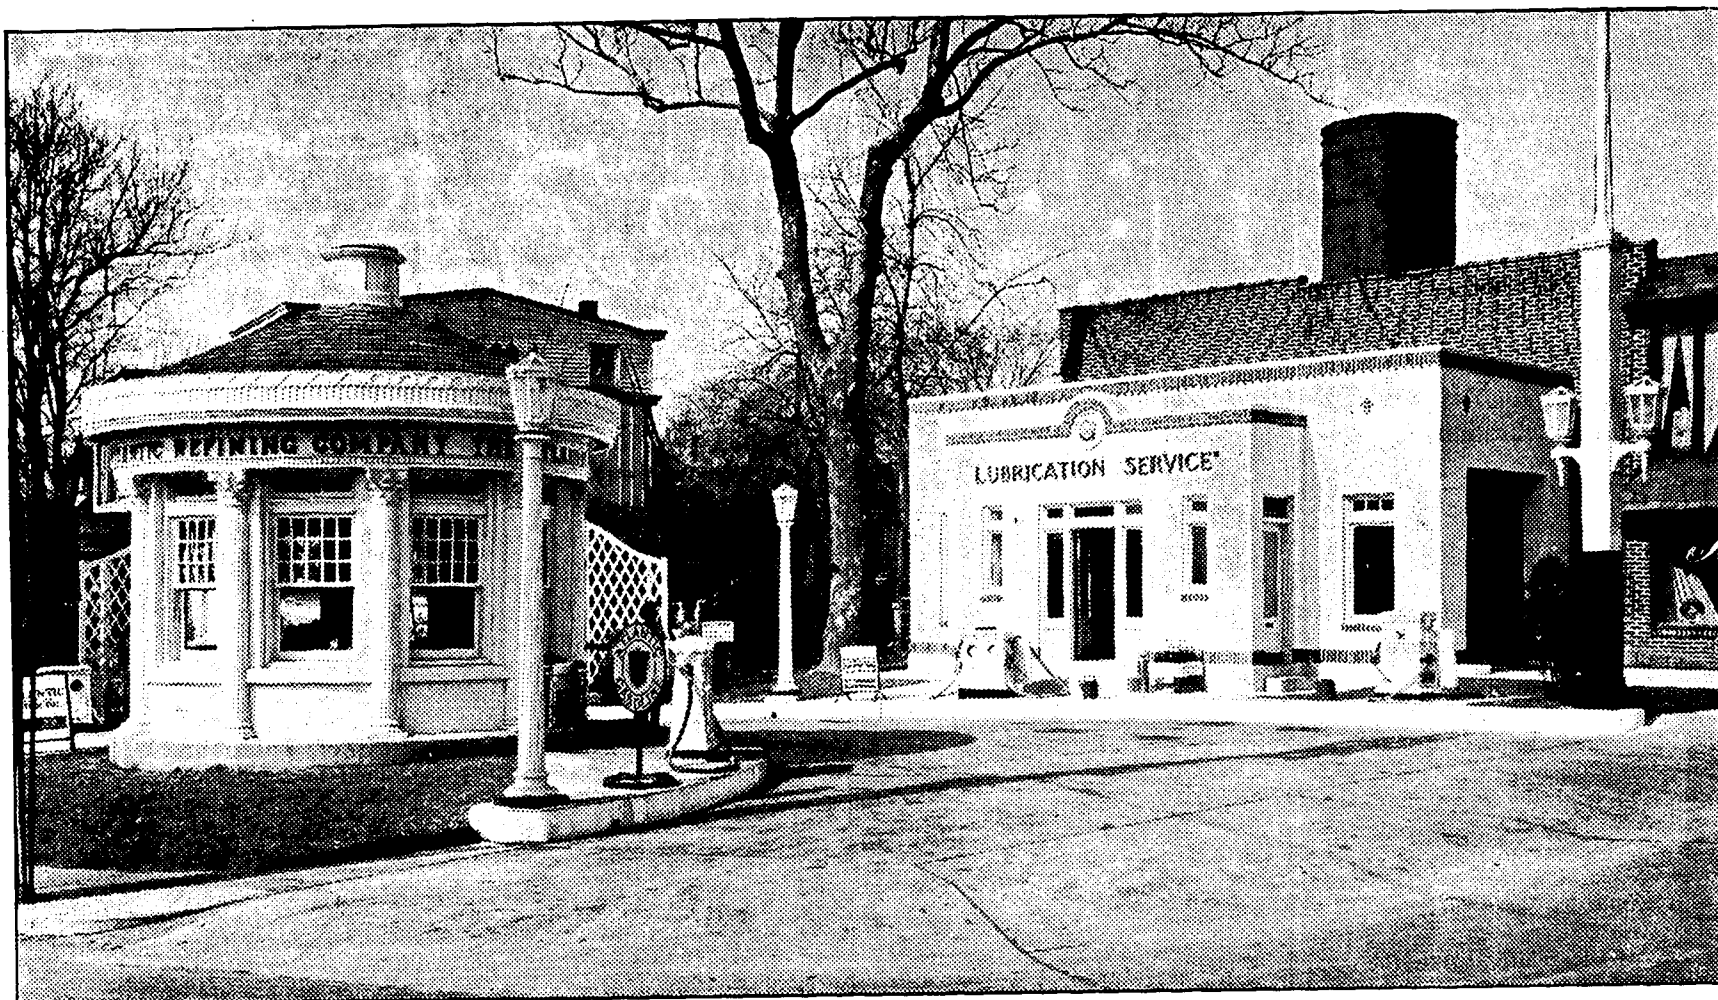

Resources in the banking department of nearly $11,000,000.00 are shown, with deposits of more than eight and one-half millions. An unusual condition is seen in the fact that the tremendous business of the local institution is being conducted without the use of borrowed money—the rediscount bracket reads "none."

A balance of two millions in capital, surplus and undivided profits shows that the bank has $1.25 available for every dollar owed depositors. A total of less than a million and a half in real estate holdings is shown, including the three banking buildings of the institution and the office building adjoining their main office occupied by Philadelphia Electric Co. and Geuting's.

A NEW LUBRICATION AND CRANKCASE SERVICE

... Montgomery Pike and Levering Mill Road

A MODERN addition to the popular and conveniently located Atlantic Service Station pictured above now offers to motorists another complete Atlantic lubrication service.

Here, amid clean, inviting surroundings, and with overhead protection from bad weather, you can have your car lubricated while you wait. Car lift and other modern facilities enable quick work. Lubrication charts and courteous attendants fully acquainted with the requirements of every make of car, assure a thorough and correctly done job.

The finest lubricants, headed by the long-lasting Atlantic Paraffine Base Motor Oil, are used. The cost to you is no more than you've probably paid for far less efficient service and much lower quality lubricants.

Bequest in Shand Will Aids Narberth Church

Bequests of 1000 each to the Bryn Mawr, Jefferson and Presbyterian Hospitals and the Narberth Presbyterian Church are made in the will of Alexander C. Shand, of the Cambridge, Alden Park, former chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, probated on Saturday. Mr. Shand left an estate of $207,000.

Mr. Shand's will bequeathed his personal effects to his widow, Ida N. Shand. He also left her one hundred shares of stock in the Corn Exchange National Bank and the money he had on deposit in that institution and in the Girard Trust Company. The residue he leaves to his two daughters, Barbara and Helen, and his son, Alexander C. Shand, Jr., except for a fund left in trust to a third daughter, Mrs. E. B. Loos. Mr. Shand resigned from the P. R. R. two years ago after serving forty-nine years with the railroad.

White House Showing of 'Girl Scout Trail' Interests Mrs. Hoover

A special private showing of "The Girl Scout Trail," the official Visigraphic sound motion picture of the Girl Scout organization, was given recently at the White House, Washington, for Mrs. Herbert Hoover and her guests.

This picture will be shown at the Seville Theatre, in Bryn Mawr, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday, March 24, 25 and 26, and at the Wayne Theatre the 26th and 27th, and is sponsored by the Girl Scout Committee of the Main Line for their work in the section.

Mrs. Hoover is honorary president of the Girl Scouts and one of the most active and interested workers in the movement.

Tickets may be had from the Harper Drug Store, Ardmore, and from Girl Scout leaders.

Charlestonians Invited

From the mayor of Charleston, S. C., comes a message urging all natives of that fair city to return for a homecoming event scheduled to take place April 10 to 13.

The dates fall at the time of the blooming of the world-famous gardens of that city. The azalea displays in particular draw people annually from great distances, and the visitors have not been restricted to natives.

A CARDINAL

A cardinal came to my doorstep
To show me his pretty red dress.
He strutted around so proudly,
He saw I was greatly impressed.

You beautiful darling, I whispered.
I wish I could hold you tight
And press you close to my bosom
And smooth down your feathers so bright.

Then he flew away to a fountain,
A fountain for birds nearby.
He left me because he was thirsty,
His dear little whistle was dry.

I believe he's the very same red-bird
That comes here year after year.
I see his companion is with with,
So I think their nest must be near.

I watch and I listen for him
And when his whistle I hear,
I hurry out to the doorstep
And often find him quite near.

I wish he would visit me daily,
For a beautiful sight is he;
I'm never too busy to answer his call
When he comes and whistles for me.

MARGARET L. GRIFFITH.

Former L. M. Athlete Honored at Lafayette

Alan Riegel Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester P. Cook, of Merion, was recently elected president of the sophomore class of Lafayette College, where he is a student. Last year Cook won a position on both the freshman football and freshman basketball squads. He was also on the freshman banquet committee. This year he has further distinguished himself on the varsity squads of football and basketball. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

At Lower Merion, from which he graduated in 1928, Cook was captain of football, basketball and tennis in his senior year and was also chosen vice president of the senior class. He won a total of seven varsity letters at the senior high school.

Concert Date Is Set

The Main Line Orchestra Association announces a third concert on Wednesday evening, April 9, in the Junior High School Auditorium, Ardmore.

Library to Start Picture Collection

Miss Church is planning to start a new feature at the Narberth Community Library and will welcome the aid and comfort of friends. This new attempt, which will be for some time very small and modest, is a picture collection, a much-needed aid to reference work. Frequent calls come to the desk for ideas as to costume, for styles of architecture, for reproductions of famous paintings, or portraits of famous people. Such wants are often difficult to fill, especially in a small library, unless an effort has been made to forestall the need. To be really useful, such a collection must be systematically arranged, which means, for one thing, filed in standard equipment, which the Library, fortunately, already possesses. Moreover, that means that material for the collection must be unframed and must not measure over nine by twelve inches. The Library will be very glad to receive gifts that will be useful for this purpose.

This paper welcomes letters on timely topics of local interest.

CLINKERS

Clinkers in your furnace are caused by the melting of the ash and its subsequent cooling when the direct, intense heat is removed.

The ashes from different coals melt (or fuse) at different temperatures, depending upon their chemical makeup, and those melting temperatures or fusion points vary roughly from 2000° to 3000° Fahrenheit.

Jeddo-Highland coal has an average fusion point of over 3000°. Since this is a temperature seldom reached by the fire in a domestic furnace, clinking troubles for the householder are reduced to a minimum through the use of Jeddo-Highland coal.

FORE AND AFT

Lively musical show and a new comedy in Philadelphia theatre attractions.

Direct from its run of more than an entire season in Manhattan, "Follow Thru" has come to the Forrest Theatre, Philadelphia, for a limited engagement. This lively musical comedy began its engagement in Philadelphia Monday evening before a crowded house that seemed to find great enjoyment in what it saw and listened to.

"Follow Thru" deals with the game of golf in the same dashing manner that the earlier Schwab & Mandel show, "Good News," presented the sunny side of university life. Its colorful scenes record the activities in and about a glorified country club. Here, romance runs rampant in a slender, graceful plot that never makes the mistake of taking itself too seriously. The Messrs. Schwab and DeSylvia, concoctors of the book, have fashioned what seems a perfect libretto for this sort of entertaining frolic and the players who take part seem to be having just as royal a time as the audience.

While primarily a dancing show, keyed to the swiftest pitch, "Follow Thru" is also a carnival of clowning. Heading the funmaking cohorts are to be found Bobby Jarvis, one of the funniest comedians we have ever seen; Harry Tighe, Peggy O'Neill, Lillian Bond, Nayan Pierce, and Warren Hull. As eccentric golfers of the dub variety, Jarvis and Tighe have many ludicrous moments together, the most hilarious being their masquerading as bewhiskered plumbers who invade the ladies' locker room in the Bound Brook Club. This is the clowning climax of the production and provoked much laughter, as did also their scene of burlesque golf on the putting green. Bobby Jarvis, in addition to being a gay buffoon, is a clever dancer as well and was quite the life of the party.

The "Follow Thru" music by Ray Henderson is among the production's greatest assets. Such song numbers as "Button Up Your Overcoat," "I Want to Be Bad," "My Lucky Star" and "You Wouldn't Fool Me, Would Ya?" are all melodies that are contagious. They were capably sung by Peggy O'Neill, Lillian Bond, Warren Hull and Bobby Jarvis in a way that brought many encores. Each tune is original in design and is accompanied by lyrics that are brisk and intelligent.

On Monday evening, March 24, Lew Cantor will present his latest comedy hit, "Many-a-Slip," by Edith Fitzgerald and Robert Riskin, at the Broad Street Theatre for an engagement of two weeks with Sylvia Sidney, Douglass Montgomery, Dorothy Sands, Maude Eburne, Malcolm Duncan, Leonard Guion and Elisha Cook, Jr., in the company. The play comes to Philadelphia, direct from a successful engagement at the Little Theatre in New York, with the original cast.

The play is an unusual comedy of domestic difficulties and concerns for the most part the difficulties which Patsy Coster, the daughter of the house, encounters in leading Jerry Brooks, a young man of literary tendencies and unorthodox ideas on the subject of marriage, to the altar. Sylvia Sidney, who has the role of the harassed daughter, is a graduate of the Theatre Guild School and has appeared in such successful plays as "Crime," "The Squall," "The Gods of Lightning," Douglass Montgomery, late of the Theatre Guild, has been seen in "Women Go on Forever," "The Garden of Eden," "Desire Under the Elms" and last year he replaced Alfred Lunt in the Guild's production of "Volpone," playing the role all summer in New York. Dorothy Sands is one of Broadway's famous mimics and was last seen in "Half Gods;" Maude Eburne will be remembered for her performance last year opposite Will Rogers in "Three Cheers." Malcolm Duncan formerly appeared with Mrs. Fiske.

Matinees at the Broad Street Theatre will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday.

Pictures For the Library

A request for pictures showing styles of architecture, reproductions of famous paintings and portraits of famous people has been made on behalf of the Narberth Community Library. It is hoped and expected that borough residents will respond generously to this appeal. A library is one of the most important cogs in community life and the more complete its references the more useful it will be in carrying out its cultural aims. In the meantime help the younger folk to form the pleasant library habit. Unquestionably acquaintanceship with good books is one of the most important phases of mind development.

National Prohibition Reform

A Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform has reached Montgomery County. The information is vouched for by the county committee of the aforementioned political body. This committee, which appears to be composed of a portion of the social leaders of the suburban half of the county, is asking 60,000 other women in Montgomery to join with them in a campaign for a change in the existing prohibition laws.

This organization, which is by no means the only anti-prohibition body in the nation, is significant in showing a definite trend. Twenty years ago the W. C. T. U., Anti-Saloon League and similar associations were just beginning to approach their strength. The nation became "dry" because the reformers were organized—the liquor interests, demon rum and John Barleycorn were unprepared and were routed after a last-ditch scrap.

Now the word "reformer" has a different application. Ten years have passed. In that time there has been no theoretical need for propaganda against the evil effects of alcohol.

The fight had been won; the "drys" rested on their laurels. And, as a result, they have become weaker and somewhat bewildered, have been put on the defensive. Still the white-ribbon folks have two tremendous factors in their favor: 1. They hold the fort. 2. A man or group fights hardest when cornered, back to wall.

The "dry" position is precarious, being charged with responsibility for "bootlegging, drunkenness, corruption, poisoned stuff and drinking by minors." Thus far, during the new trend, the dry element hasn't been able to shift the blame elsewhere with any degree of conviction. Still it took no less than two decades of active campaigning to place things where they stand.

The Changing Sunday

The Sunday of our forefathers, a day of reverence and rest, is about to lose one of its last remaining fortresses, Philadelphia. Of significance on this subject is the following editorial, headed "The Price of Blue Laws," from the Philadelphia Public Ledger:

With the decision of the Philadelphia Business Progress Association to investigate the dollars-and-cents cost of a closed Sunday, the argument over the 1794 blue laws enters a new phase. Heretofore the discussion has been around religious and moral issues. Now it centers on the pocketbook.

There is a very real, sound basis for such a view of the closed Sunday. For, like so many other problems, the closed Sunday involves other issues—Saturday and Monday business, for instance. No city with a large share of its population migrating every weekend can have a really normal business. Curtailing the ordinary six-day week to five, or even four, as some declare happens in Philadelphia, cuts a sixth of the potential revenue from that city every year. Add to this the free-handed week-end spending elsewhere and the consequent week-day economy at home, and the financial aspect of the closed Sunday can become a very real problem.

Some time ago a prominent Jewish rabbi made the startling statement that present religious institutions would cease to exist within fifty years. Since many of our churches date back hundreds of years, this seems like too broad an assertion for its likelihood of coming about. On the other hand who could have imagined, even a few short years ago, that Philadelphia would investigate the disadvantages of an unworshipful Sunday?

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Rebuttal.

Now, Jess, here are a few words in response to your letter published in last week's issue.

Your idea of a column is beautiful, ethereal, but impossible. Did you ever find one that fell under your arbitrary requirements? This column is interesting to me, educating to some no doubt, and often more humorous than I intend it to be. However, that is not my purpose in writing it; the purpose is to fill thirteen inches of space with, what I am told is, eight point type. You've no idea how hard it is for me to gauge, even with a typewriter double spaced and indented ten and seventy, the exact amount necessary to fill it. Incidentally I type like the Prince of Wales and all newspaper men with two fingers; that is, I did. Now I use one on the left hand and two on the right.

Your tastes are not representative. Therefore I shall not endeavor to cater to them. You have an idea that you are a super-intellectual, but in my opinion you are a noisy person of mediocre cerebration.

Could you have defined the words in question?

Public opinion is commonly supposed to be the basis of law; such opinion insisting on behavior that is best for the greatest number. It is not good for society to have murderers and thieves. No individual in the country would vote to have the laws governing these crimes repealed, and they are not parts of the United States' Constitution. It is also not good to have drunkenness, but you must be aware that the Eighteenth Amendment has not stopped drunkenness, and public opinion is not unanimous that no one should drink. Your logic is faulty and your insults unpardonable.

Like the law, the column is for the greatest pleasure of the greatest number of readers. You are not required to read it, but you do; you enjoy it, yet you haven't the backbone to come out from behind your anonymity, and hiding there, you shout taunts and insults at women and a middle-aged man. For shame!

You might cancel your subscription to the paper. As far as I know the column has never caused anyone to do that; it would be an achievement to know that it meant that much.

The publisher has forwarded me a letter from some person signed "Junius Parvulus," probably a young girl. With it he sent a note advising me to run it since it was obviously a child desiring to see his ranting in print. Not meaning any sacrilege, I shall "suffer the little child" and run at least part of it:

Dear Uncle Cy:

How your betrayal of picayune impotence in last week's "Stupidity," has let you down in our estimation. You show narrow calibre in crowning that you saw through your friends' simulation. Firstly be not proud that you saw, for such sight demands but little insight; secondly to resort to a medium your friend may not use, is to go him one better; thirdly, you judge rashly and prematurely, "to see every move before it is made" can also be the work of a suspicious peasant mind. Only the clear, strong, self-confident mind trusts others and resorts to no impotent railings; for it alone, feels itself well able to cope with any plans of its opponents.

(The next paragraph is omitted as unimportant. The close follows). Do not dare to print this! It will hurt your good name. Sincerely, Junius Parvulus.

Now, Junius, that man is no friend of mine!

Secondly, thirdly, and fourthly, I trust everyone till I find their minds warped, and very rarely have I discovered such people among my acquaintances. Such behavior sickens me. I believe I should prefer the company of a murderer to that of a scheming, dishonest, crooked, so-called gentleman. Some day you'll grow up, and your beautiful illusions about people will be based on sound valuations. Most people are fine and splendid, but you'll always find a few bad apples in a barrel.

Let's have something new and constructive next week.

Theatre Management Appreciates Trust

"More parents every week are learning that they may entrust their children to our care at the Saturday afternoon children's parties," Manager Joseph Conway, of the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd, declared this week. "We appreciate their faith in us; that is why, for the ever-larger crowds of children at Saturday matinees, the Egyptians standard of entertainment is so high. It has been gartifying to note that not only the children but their parents approve and like these shows."

This Friday and Saturday the Egyptian's program includes "Hot for Paris," with Victor McLaglen, Fifi D'Orsay and the comic El Brendel; the Inquirer's Newsreel, with Graham McNamee announcing; and an "Our Gang" comedy.

So many have been the requests for an engagement of "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," with Winnie Lightner, that the popular comedy will be seen heard at the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Richard Dix will give reason for his popularity since "talkies" became the vogue, in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," the popular Earl Derr Biggers novel and play.

different aspect this year. It is planned by the committee in charge of this event to increase the interest by creating friendly rivalry among the various communities participating.

Each community will parade as a division, with two prizes offered. First, for the community having the largest number of marchers and the second, to the community making the best appearance, as a group.

Both of these awards will be presented to the Chamber of Commerce or business association in the community represented.

Another innovation this year will be a model airplane contest, which in all likelihood will be staged in the auditorium of the Lower Merion Junior High School on Saturday, May 10. It is expected that this event will prove one of the most popular ones on the program.

With the exceptions of a few minor changes the rest of the program will be the same as that of previous years, including athletic events, Father and Son Day, Bugle contest, Marble contest, Boy Scouts in citizenship, kite-flying contest, etc.

Tuesday's meeting was attended by fourteen members of the Council and was presided over by Donald McIlvaine, the president.

Quaker Rivals Seek Renewal of Football

Petitions Circulated This Week
Thru Haverford-Swarthmore Student Bodies.

TO RESUME RELATIONS

Efforts are being made to secure the renewal of football relations between Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges through the circulation of a petition among both student bodies and alumni this week. The petition is sponsored by the two college newspapers, the Haverford News and the Swarthmore Phoenix.

It is hoped to secure the signatures of all students in both institutions, and as many alumni as possible. The petitions will then be presented to the presidents and graduate managers of athletics of both colleges.

Football rivalry between these two institutions dates back to 1879. The annual game became established in 1884 and followed each year until the first break in relations in 1904. Swarthmore ambitions for fast company, resulting in one-sided games with its traditional rival, destroyed the friendly rivalry which had existed up to this time.

Agitation for the renewal of relations appeared at Haverford during 1908, and the Haverford News, the present college paper, was established as a medium of propaganda to accomplish this end.

Begun again in 1916 the series between the Quaker rivals lasted this time until 1925, when the Haverford athletic authorities deemed "unwise to close the season with a college whose widely differing athletic policies produce a condition of inequality in football competition."

In commenting on the petition the editor of the Haverford News said: "In conducting this petition, the News believes that there is a real desire among the students and alumni of Haverford to have football relations with Swarthmore renewed. This belief is based largely on the poll on the situation which was taken two years ago and upon the run of current comment heard on the campus at present." The wording of the student petition will be:

"To the Presidents and Graduate Managers of Haverford and Swarthmore:

"We, the undersigned students of Haverford College, hereby express our whole-hearted desire for a renewal of football relations between Haverford and Swarthmore in 1931. We believe that any ill feeling that might have existed between the student bodies and likewise any marked differences in the strengths of the two football teams have been eliminated since the break in 1925."

Let "Our Town" hear of your news, by mail or phone-call.

Mrs. Horace Burrell Traces Evolution to American Flag at Meeting of Rush Chapter, D. A. R.

Mrs. Horace H. Burrell, of the Germantown Chapter, D. A. R., Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, gave a very interesting talk at the meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. T. Van Auker, on Chestnut Avenue, Narberth. Her topic was "The Evolution of the American Flag." Mrs. Burrell had a very interesting collection of flags from the early history of the United States until the present day which she used to illustrate the various points in her lecture.

Among the early flags which she exhibited and spoke of were those of Christopher Columbus, which he planted on the shores of San Salvador in 1492; the British flag of Sir John Cabot's expedition; the French flag of Charles VI; the flag of Henry Hudson's expedition and the early Swedish flag from which Philadelphia derived its present city colors.

Most of the thirteen original colonies were settled by the English and hence the cross of St. George was used in the majority of the flags although the Puritans in the early days objected to the Red Cross of St. George, not from any disloyalty to the mother country but from a conscientious objection to what they deemed an idolatrous symbol.

Many of the colonies in 1700 had devised badges to distinguish their vessels from that of England and each other. In the early stages of the Revolution each State adopted a flag of its own.

Massachusetts was a pine tree flag in 1704, which was believed to have been carried at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Its motto was "An Appeal to Heaven." South Carolina a rattlesnake with the motto "Don't Tread on Me." New York, a white flag with a black beaver, and Rhode Island a flag with an anchor. Blue flags with silver stars and white and red-striped flags show us how our own glorious flag was devised. It is thought by some that the flag of the East Indian Company was the first inspiration, while others claim the flag of the Light Horse Troop was the inspiration. There has been much controversy as to whether Betsy Ross made the first flag or not. Nevertheless, despite the debunkers of history we still like to think that she did.

Congress in July, 1777, resolved that the flag be thirteen alternate red and white stripes and thirteen stars in a blue field, representing a constellation.

In the first week of August, 1777, a flag was hurriedly improvised by the defenders of Fort Mifflin on the upper Mohawk and was hoisted on the ramparts of the design of Congress; but, although hardly a "flag" in the true sense, it cannot be ignored in our patriotic history.

One month later, September 3, 1777, the first real Betsy Ross flag was unfurled in the outpost fight at Cooch's Bridge, foot of Iron Hill, between Christiana and Newark, Del.; which fight was the preliminary engagement between troops of General Washington and General Sir William Howe, who was moving up from Chesapeake Bay to attack Philadelphia and who succeeded in crossing the Brandywine, after a bloody battle, September 11. The American troops at Cooch's Bridge were commanded by General Maxwell and consisted of 900 Philadelphia Light Horse and 700 Delaware and Maryland troops. It is claimed that this is the first time the Stars and Stripes were carried in battle.

As new States came into the Union more stripes and stars were added. In 1818, however, it was deemed advisable to go back to the thirteen stripes, but to place stars in the blue canton.

Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner" to the flag which had fifteen stars in its blue canton in the year of 1812.

Mrs. Burrell mentioned and showed the various flags of the Confederate States.

Mrs. Charles M. Irwin, Regent, presided.

Mrs. Harry M. Chalfant was elected the delegate by the chapter to attend the thirty-ninth National Continental Congress which convenes in Washington the week of April 14. Mrs. Charles M. Irwin, Regent, will attend by right of office and Mrs. Stewart M. Anderson, Mrs. Robert Dohard and Mrs. Tristram du Marais were elected alternates.

MRS. B. EARLE ACHENBACH

Mrs. B. Earle Achenbach, of 507 Merwyn Road, Narberth, died Wednesday morning. The cause of death was a heart condition. She is survived by her husband and two children, Ethel and George. Mrs. Achenbach was an active member of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth and of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, D. A. R. The funeral and interment will take place at Lockhaven, Pennsylvania.

Edna E. Brown, widow of William A. Brown, died Saturday at her residence, 217 Wayne Avenue, Narberth. Funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Oliver H. Bair Building, 1820 Chestnut Street. Interment at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

William Wilson, 312 Grayling Avenue, Narberth, died last Thursday. Funeral services were held Friday at 8 P. M. from the late residence. Interment took place in Pittsburgh.

Young People's Class Delving Into Genesis

Genesis 10 and 11, with their long lists of patriarchal tongue-twisters, may seem to be pretty dry material for study, but the Young People's Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church are doing their best to get some life out of these apparently dry chapters, and according to indications they are bound for a pretty lively session this coming Sunday morning.

The origin of the nations might be called the general topic, and Francis and Elisabeth Lambert are making a study of the sons of Japhet while Jim McCutcheon will make a special report on Nimrod, the mighty hunter and founder of the first world-empire. Ed Gilfillan is interested in the Egyptians (and we'll learn where the gypsies came from too). Then Faith McAuliffe will start us on the sons of Shem, telling of the ancestry and early history of Abraham from whom came the chosen people, and Ed Merkle and wife will jump over a few centuries and tell us what they think happened to the ten lost tribes. Finally Mr. Stam, our teacher, will bind together these accounts and show what spiritual and practical lessons we may draw from these accounts for our own lives.

We meet every Sunday morning at 9:45 in the main Sunday school room for music and exercises with the general session, repairing to our own classroom shortly after ten. All young people not connected with other churches are cordially invited to meet with us, not only in our Bible Class meetings, but in our frequent hikes and other good times. We have a number of young married couples, though most of the fellows and girls are still in single bliss, so please come and get acquainted, and give us a chance to offer you a welcome.

Highway Committee Reports Purchase of New Vehicles

The report of the committee on Highways and Sewers of the Borough for the month of February is as follows:

"During the past month we have bought and put into operation the Ford coupe and the Ford truck which were authorized at the February meeting. In addition, we have installed new tire equipment on our older motor vehicles which was also

"Our routine expenditures for February totaled $1098.60, and included $838.10 for labor in collecting 903 cubic yards of ashes; $205.20 for labor for street cleaning; $36.70 for labor and $30.46 for materials for street maintenance and $18.60 for labor in marking parking lines and signs on Haverford Avenue."

Force Organized

The Narberth police force, now formed by ordinance, consists of the following: Sergeant Charles Girvin and Patrolmen Joseph Utz, Brady Utz and August W. Baily. Officer Baily, recently appointed, is completing his probationary training at Lower Merion police headquarters in Ardmore, and will report for duty in the Borough soon.

Chevrolet announces

A NEW SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.

3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.

4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.

5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations!

In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

Mr. and Mrs. George Moreheart, of Lantwyn Lane, and their sons, George Junior and William, have just returned from an extended visit to Florida.

Miss Julia Fitipoldi, of Merion Avenue, was the hostess to her bridge club on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mary W. Miller and Miss Dorothy Miller, of North Narberth Avenue, motored to Ithaca, New York, to spend two weeks. Miss Madeline T. Miller, a student at Cornell, will return home with them on March 28 to spend her spring vacation.

The members of the Phi Tau Delta Sorority are having a Progressive Dinner on Monday night for the old members of last year who are now at college. The first course will be at the home of Clara Louise Douglass, on Elm Terrace; second course at the home of Miss Eleanor Michaelson, on Haverford Avenue, and cards and entertainment will be furnished by Miss Betty Otto, of Grayling Avenue. Among those who will be present are Miss Betty Conneys, Miss Helen Staley, Miss Ray Wilson, Miss Eleanor Michaelson, Miss Ann Mode, Miss Katherine Smith, Miss Betty Otto, Miss Virginia Douglass, Miss Elizabeth Perry, Miss Myrtle Schlipf, Miss Ruth Hopkins, Miss Alica Maguire and Miss Clara Louise Douglass.

Miss Mary Ohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vestus J. Spindler, of Chestnut Avenue, will entertain the members of the school set at a St. Patrick's party this evening. Among the guests will be Miss Helen Orr, Miss Martha Ferguson, Miss Armeline Yost, Miss Flora Hultgren, Miss Florence Shroder, Miss Lorna McCartney, Master Dick McDevitt, Master Jack Van Auker, Master Jack Staley, Master Vaughan Templeman, Master Parker Woolmington, Master Alfred Livingston and Master John Neidcker.

Mrs. Frank Stiefel, of Woodside Avenue, entertained eight of the members of the Hospitality Committee of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth at luncheon last Thursday. This was followed by a bridge at which there were nine tables. Mrs. Stiefel wishes to thank the members of the Hospitality Committee for their aid in this affair.

Mrs. Stiefel will entertain Mrs. F. Bond, Mrs. J. Lamond and Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick at luncheon and bridge on Tuesday afternoon.

Collins to Lecture at

Junior High Monday

Alfred M. Collins, of Ardmore, big-game hunter and explorer, will give an illustrated lecture on his recent African trip at the Lower Merion Junior High School on Monday evening, March 24. The lecture will be for the benefit of the Building Fund of the Community Health and Civic Association.

This lecture will take the audience into Tanganyika territory, the greatest lion country in the world, where Mr. Collins secured probably the best lion pictures that have been shown. Countless herds of game and interesting pictures of the natives and their dances are shown. The lecturer will then describe his motor trip to the south into northern Rhodesia, and a canoe trip down the little-known Chambezi River, by which live some of the most interesting people in Africa, to Bulawayo. The audience proceeds from Bulawayo, where the great Matabele rebellion took place, to the burial place of John Cecil Rhodes, and will later proceed to Victoria, where the great falls of the Zambezi will be shown in very beautiful and remarkable motion pictures.

High School Seniors to Give Benefit Shows at Narberth Theatre

Two groups of performances will be given by the Narberth Theatre, co-operating with the Senior Class of the Lower Merion High School, to aid the class treasury, according to announcement made this week. Charles E. Walsh, of Narberth, is chairman of the Senior committee which has arranged the benefit, through courtesy of Salasin and Fried. The Senior boy or girl who sells the greatest number of tickets is to be rewarded, it has been announced, with a trip to Florida.

The performances chosen by the Seniors are "Sunny Side Up," with Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell and El Brendel, to be seen-heard on the theatre's new Western Electric 1930 equipment next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; and "The Show of Shows," colorful revue with dozens of screen stars, to be given Wednesday and Thursday of the following week—April 2 and 3.

It is expected that the Narberth Theatre's capacity crowds will continue today and tomorrow, when Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are to be seen and heard in their original and diverting interpretation of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

Coming to the Narberth playhouse next Thursday and Friday are Nancy Carroll and Hal Skelly in "The Dance of Life," and next Saturday, William Haines and Anita Page in "Navy Blues."

'Bill' Crowell and 'Lou' Young to Address Legion

All ex-service men of Narberth and vicinity and all friends of the Legion are invited to attend the regular meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, on Monday night, March 24, at the Legion Room, in the Community Building, on Windsor Avenue.

Wilmer G. Crowell and Louis Alonzo Young will be the guest speakers of the evening and are too well known to need any introduction. They will tell some of their most interesting experiences and we can rest assured of hearing some good stories.

Every member is supposed to bring in a prospective member at this meeting; but whether or not a special invitation is sent the Legion wants all eligible men to attend and get acquainted.

New Badge Identifies Phila. Electric Employees

Beginning Monday of this week all employees of the Philadelphia Electric Company having direct contact with the public, such as meter readers, collectors, home service representatives, service men, etc., appeared with a new and distinctive badge which will replace a variety of badges heretofore used. The old badges have been called in in order that employees of all departments dealing with customers may have a single distinctive type of badge.

The new badge is diamond shaped, patterned in style and coloring similar to the decalcomanias appearing on all company cars. "Philadelphia Electric Company" appears around the border of the badge in silver letters on a background of gold. The number of the badge appears on a silver stripe running through the center on a background of red. These badges are worn for the protection of the public and employees wearing them have been instructed to show their badges when calling on customers.

The territory in which the new badges will be worn include the city of Philadelphia and four divisions in the suburban area: Delaware Division, with headquarters at Chester; Main Line Division, with headquarters at Ardmore; Schuylkill Division, with headquarters at Norristown, and Eastern Division, with headquarters at Jenkintown.

Echoes of the News

According to a new rule at Harvard, students who have not learned to swim by the time they are ready to be graduated, will be refused a degree by the university. The idea is to teach young men to keep their heads above water.

It is said that of the ninety-six

United States Senators, sixty-five per cent. are lawyers. No wonder that everything is argued to a frazzle.

The prohibition commissioner has issued permits for three big distilleries to make 2,000,000 gallons of rye whisky for medicinal purposes. Now wouldn't that make you sick?

Think Sharp!

When is an edged tool
not an edged tool?

Obvious answer:

—When it is dull.

ARE your knives and scissors sharp and keen? What about the saw that hangs in the cellar—will it cut when you want it? And the meat saw and the hatchet—are they ready for use? What about the lawn mower that pushed so hard last summer?

WE sharpen all edged tools and retoothe saws. Your work is done by experts with the latest and best equipment. Prices are very reasonable.

NARBERTH CLUB INSTITUTE

insisted upon by Mrs. Richard J. Hamilton, vice president of the Southeastern District. "Good programs help attendance," said Mrs. Hamilton, "but working together and taking a personal interest in fellow-members are important." Carrying on in the face of obstacles, playing the game and giving constructive suggestions were other things recommended by Mrs. Hamilton.

The Question Box was opened by Mrs. Alfred Crooks, State chairman of Institutes, which contained such queries as "What is a club president's best asset?" "Should executive board meetings be secret?" and "When and how best to collect dues?"—all of which were discussed. "Clubs are not for amusement alone," said Mrs. Crooks, "but for study, sociability and service." A club president needs, she said, the "patience of Job and the wisdom of Solomon."

Luncheon in the small club room followed the reading of reports by the chairmen of civics, American home and Welfare.

The afternoon session of the Woman's Community Club Institute was resumed at two o'clock. Mrs. Alfred Crooks, State chairman of Institutes, answered the questions left over from the morning session and the forum was a spirited discussion of many club problems, especially Club Ethics. The guest speaker, Nancy Byrd Turner, spoke on "A verse writer looks at her own verse."

"The Daughter of a Clergyman," her first poetic venture, was at the age of eight years when her father offered her the sum of ten cents for every poem that she wrote. The subjects included "Life, death and eternity," then romance crept in and she wrote "Ruth in the Dentist's Chair." But the great moment came when she received her first check. All her life she had had a desire to go to England and while in Boston wrote "Return," describing how she would go to London. The poem appeared in a New York paper and was read by two women who believed that if a person so desired to do a thing it was up to them to help her accomplish it. So they financed her on her trip abroad. There she wrote "Going Up to London." On her return she went to the McDowell colony at Peterboro and found time and rest so that she was able to accomplish much more writing. Among the poems written there were "Who Makes a Garden?", "Epitaphs of a Country Door-Yard," a very humorous number. The poem that first brought her to Philadelphia was inspired by looking at Washington's statue in the public garden in Boston. She imagines he was homesick and looking toward Virginia. Both smiles and tears were brought to the eyes of her audience when she read from her children's poems and her "Negro Group."

She completed her program with a poem written on "Lucky Lindbergh," written one night between ten o'clock and one in the morning and published in The Boston Herald. The Club Institute day, including the fine luncheon served by Mrs. Suzanne Gill and her committee, proved to be a full and inspiring one.

Ludlow to Speak at Mothers' Council Meeting

The postponed meeting of the Narberth Mothers' Council will be held in the school auditorium on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be the annual Fathers' Night. An attractive program has been arranged by the fathers, including an address by the Hon. Benjamin H. Ludlow, Ardmore attorney. A record attendance is looked for.

Stork Makes Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Russell, of Wynnewood Court, Narberth, are being congratulated upon the birth of a son, Donald Lentz Russell, on March 8. Mrs. Russell prior to her marriage was Miss Helen Lentz.

Raise Good Sum

A total of $88.90 was raised in the movie benefit held last week at the Narberth Theatre by the Welfare Committee of the Woman's Community Club for the Child Health Center.
